Note from the CEO

We are here to make your money work better for you-

As we celebrate our 75th year, we look back over our history and see that in all our 75 years our mission has remained the same. We are here to offer our members the best possible solution to their financial needs.

In these tough financial times, everyone is looking for a way to stretch their dollars. Fresno Fire Department Credit Union has the answers. Current economic times and recent legislation has caused most credit card companies to raise their rates and fees and lower their customer's limits. We offer the same low rates on our credit cards that we have for years and even lower rates for balance transfers - with no balance transfer fees!

We offer the same low rates on our used car loans as we do on our new cars.

We are glad to assist any member to try to improve their financial position-at no charge, just give us a call

We appreciate your business.

Jan Wallace,
CEO
